

Vox Pupuli - Empowering the Puppet Community

$ whoami

- Tim 'bastelfreak' Meusel
- Systems Engineer for heg.com
- Puppet Contributor since 2012
- Merging stuff on Vox Pupuli since 2015
- Vox Pupuli PMC member

Vox Pupuli

What?

- Provide a home for orphaned Puppet modules
- Unite lonely module and tooling authors
- Ensure continued development for our code

Vox Pupuli

Who?

- Currently 80 people with merge permissions
- A few people work for Puppet Inc.
- Most of the contributors participate in their free time
- Normal administrators that have to deal with puppet at work

Vox Pupuli

Who?

- Many git newbies
- Many administrators of legacy infrastructures
 - Puppet2.7, Ruby187

Vox Pupuli

Why?

- Maintaining a module on your own is hard
 - Changing best practices, vacations, loosing interest
- Proper testing of a module requires a lot of stuff from the ruby ecosystem
 - Ruby ecosystem and related tools are changing too fast for a single person

How?

AUTOMATE

Vox Pupuli

How?

modulesync

- We are managing more than 70 modules
- modulesync got developed by Puppet Inc, moved to Vox Pupuli
- It takes a config file + templates, throws it into every modules git repo
- Everybody can start it

- Free platform
- rpsec-puppet common Puppet*Ruby versions
- release modules to the forge
- 10-60min per module, doesn't scale :sadface:

beaker

- creates a virtual machine or docker instance
- starts a complete OS in it
- executes puppet in it
- checks if everything looks as expected

Vox Pupuli

How?

beaker

Can be executed:

- on your notebook before you contribute a patch
- with docker on travis
- on our own infra with docker or QEMU/Virtualbox
